

Edge of Darkness

Dea Marica

A rising bleak dawn, a permanent sunset
On the human condition, a boot perpetually treads
Illumination snuffed forwards on time will march
Holding as a mirror condemning to repeat the past
End time, the realms of a setting sun
Twilight, a new age has begun
Decline, decension to a new dark age
Blank time, an old world not quite so brave
Right on the edge
Of a new dark age
Back on the edge
We stand on the edge of darkness
A fading dusk empty blanketing shade
A dying sun only blackness radiates
An aeon ends a millennium overturned
Time lies in embers as barren horizons burn
End time, the realms of a setting sun
Twilight, a new age has begun
Decline, decension to a new dark age
Blank time, an old world not quite so brave
Right on the edge
Of a new dark age
Back on the edge
We stand on the edge of darkness
End time, the realms of a setting sun
Twilight, a new age has begun
Decline, decension to a new dark age
Blank time, an old world not quite so brave
Right on the edge
Of a new dark age
Back on the edge
Right on the edge
Of a new dark age
Back on the edge
