

I Guess You Could Say

Middle Class Rut

I came into this world as nothing
I ain't gonna leave that way
I came into this world as nothing
I ain't gonna leave that way
So when my hands remain tied
There's only me to blame
I guess you could say
I'm looking for something to be, to hold, to own
To call mine, to call mine
Well, I ain't found it yet but when I do
It's all mine
Gimme back the rights you read me
I can't seem to make it make sense
Oh, gimme back the rights you read me
I can't seem to make it make sense
'Cause no one ever said
That at the end I wouldn't get a second chance
I guess you could say
I'm looking for something to be, to hold, to own
To call mine, to call mine

Well, I ain't found it yet but when I do
It's all mine
Maybe I am on a road that ain't been claimed yet
And maybe I ain't seen a sign that ain't been made yet
Maybe I am on a road that ain't been claimed yet
And maybe I ain't seen a sign that ain't been made yet
Or maybe I'm just stuck in here
Feeling like I gave so much more to you
Oh, than you gave to me
I guess you could say
I'm looking for something to be, to hold, to own
To call mine, to call mine
Well, I ain't found it yet but when I do
It's all mine
I guess you could say
I'm looking for something to be, to hold, to own
To call mine, to call mine
Well, I ain't found it yet but when I do

It's all mine

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>