

In Your Arms

Claire Tchaikowski

Safe in silence now
Well no rain will fall where we are
You in my arms now
We won't answer calls anymore

We will own the world
And never let this go
You'll forgive my words
I never meant to hurt you

I would lie there open in your arms (Soon we rise)
I believe it's you right there (Soon be right there)

Oh by now is there's no return
I'm losing all the things that I adore
Will this fear forever run my life
How could you forgive me now at all??

We tried so hard to kick this thing and oh
The lights came on
We came so far through thick and thin and oh
I only want one thing

I would lie there open in your arms...
