Times Like These - Unicorns Killed My Girlfriend

I love the shit she tells me,
And I love the way she listens.
That girl is so addictive,
That cocaine's got competition.
And yeah she trips me out,
Like I'm smoking on that loud.
That girl invades my mind,
Like a S.W.A.T. team in a drug house.
She slit the throat of my depression,
But we're the ones resting in peace.
Even when she's fast asleep,
That bitch brings out the best in me.
If this love was a sin, I would become friends with Satan.
I'd want you more than air even if I was being suffocated.
I won't repent.
I won't regret.
And if this love is sinful then, drag me down to Hell;
So that we can be together, and burn all by ourselves.
It's times like these that I look back on and think
'Shit we had it made.'
'Damn those were the days.'
So girl just please don't turn the page.
You're the noose around the neck of a boy in love with suicide.
Don't get me wrong, my point is that you make me glad to be alive.
Without you I'm a psychopath but without all the evil laughs.
Because life without you's not enjoyable,
We're both broke as fuck, but you make me feel royal.
If this love was a sin, I would become friends with Satan.
I'd want you more than air, even if I was being suffocated.
I won't repent.
I won't regret.
And if this love is sinful, then drag me down to Hell;
So that we can be together, and burn all by ourselves.
I love that shit she tells me.
And I love the way she listens.
That girl is so addictive.
That cocaine has competition.

And yeah she trips me out.
Like I'm smoking on that loud.
That girl invades my mind.
Like a S.W.A.T. team raiding a drug house.
I won't repent.
I won't regret.
And if this love is sinful then, drag me down to Hell;
So that we can be together, and burn all by ourselves.
I won't repent.
I won't regret.
And if this love is sinful then, drag me down to Hell;
So that we can be together, and burn all by ourselves.
