

Angelina (Reprise)

The Wooden Sky

Should the ground that's beneath us betray us tonight
And the whole damn thing goes up in flames
I will lay down beside you when it all gets too much
And quietly whisper your name{Chorus}
Angelina, oh Angelina
You know it all seems so strange to me now
But you know, they won't believe us
So come here child, and lay your burden down
So I held onto believing they took all the night
And robbed me of all of my rings
For a sin so real, it marked both of us
And begged me to hold her again{Chorus}
