

Justice After All

Black Lips

I was walking down the street thinking about the time
The federal bureau was on the street busting out the crime
Well, if I travel every day why you wanna go?
The questions that go unanswered, claiming they don't know What's your name? who you're after? where you wanna go?
Though entertainer, don't enjoy the show
Well, you could go at it again, that's all you need to know
Protect your name and your back, serve it up, don't stick out for all Running down the blinking eye, trying to get away
Every action, every act, everywhere I stay
Don't we get a little space? can't we get along?
Forgive me if I'm saving face, if I'm new and wrong
What's your name? who you're after? where you wanna go?
Though entertainer, don't enjoy the show
Well, you could go at it again, that's all you need to know
Protect your name and your back, serve it up, don't stick out for all Running to all my friends, hoping that you'll like
The information has no ends, drop this on a spike
But it brings us altogether so what you gonna?
All the birds of a feather get up on that stew
What's your name? who you're after? where you wanna go?
Though entertainer, don't enjoy the show
Well, you could go at it again, that's all you need to know
Protect your name and your back, serve it up, don't stick out for all

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>