Antidote

The Boat People

I believe in love, and all that crazy stuff but staring into space has been such an easy place for me

And recently I've found that even when i'm not around that life keeps going on, and I want to be strong, for you

So Hold your head high, 'cause you're everything I need, you're everything to escape myself

You're everything I need, you're the antidote to an ugly world

If I Lose my mind,i hope someone will find the words I write for you will always be the proof of love

And accidents are no excuse 'cause you need me like I need you, and if you think of packing it in well I hope you change your mind, again

So Hold your head high, 'cause you're everything I need, you're everything to escape myself

You're everything I need, you're the antidote to an ugly world
the antidote to an ugly world

So Hold your head high,
So Hold your head high,
So Hold your head high,

'cause you're everything I need, you're everything to escape myself you're everything I need, you're everything to escape myself

You're everything I need, you're the antidote to an ugly world
the antidote to an ugly world
the antidote to an ugly world
the antidote to an ugly world
