Division

Glorified!

You chose to surrender the best thing that's happened to you
What were you missing? Were you just tripping?
Running away from your fear was the best you could do
You made this decision, you chose our division
And I have no regrets
I wish you the very best
In all that you do
Congratulations, now you are free
You have earned your degree
Yeah, you've graduated
This is your last separation from me
There'll be no more trying, no more coming back
No more forgiving you, no more thinking that
Somehow the sum will be different
By using division
Half of your friends would attend before they ever knew
Why they are going to this party I'm throwing
They would be thinking that I would be pleading to you
To get back together, well, how about never?
You're gonna miss me, Brad
So funny I had to laugh
You did this to you
Yeah, you did
Congratulations, now you are free
You have earned your degree
Yeah, you've graduated
This is your last separation from me
There'll be no more trying, no more coming back
No more forgiving you, no more thinking that
Somehow the sum will be different
By using division
Congratulations, you've graduated
You finally got your degree
In your last separation from me
Congratulations, you've graduated
To be all alone by yourself
Let me throw you a party, farewell
Farewell, farewell, farewell, farewell, well, well, well
Congratulations, yeah, yeah, yeah
