

They Say You Won't Come Back

Breathe Carolina

What's another burned bridge?
Does it matter?
You weren't there, why do you care?
End the chapter
Loose talk is the enemy of laughter
Light up my cigarette and wait for disaster

I wish there was a way, to give it all away
From the hole where my heart used to be
Just believe me

Don't go play by the water
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back
Don't go looking for answers
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back
Tried to warn you
You didn't listen
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back
Don't go looking for answers
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back

Back to the lake where I disposed of my body
Parts of me she is resurfacing
And I, I just don't understand
Why's she gotta talk so much
And I'm so tired of telling lies
Oh, I wanna go back
Rewind

I wish there was a way to give it all away
from the hole where my heart used to be
Just believe me

Don't go play by the water
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back

Don't go looking for answers
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back
Tried to warn you
You didn't listen
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back
Don't go looking for answers
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back

There's no use in bringing up the past
No need to see where I've been
We can find a silver lining
See the best in all the worst things
We can find a silver lining
See the best in all the worst things

Don't go play by the water
Don't go looking for answers

Don't go play by the water
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back
Don't go looking for answers
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back
Tried to warn you
You didn't listen
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back
Don't go looking for answers
They say you won't come back
Don't go, you won't come back
