Don't Make Me Sad

The Feeling

Well, I know where you've been
And I've seen what you've seen
And I've read all the books
On your shelves and in your nooksStill I don't understand
Though it's there in your hands
Why you beg and you steal
For a love that isn't realHappiness can find you nowhere
Happiness can find you nowhere
Happiness can find you nowhereOh baby, don't make me sad
You're the only one I ever had
Oh baby, don't make me sad
You're the only love I ever had, ever had
Don't make me sadIn a field by a stone
I could sit for days alone
Not a thought for myself
Not my happiness or healthJust a fool that I love
With a push and a shove
It ain't easy to be true
But I do it just for youHappiness will find us somewhere
Happiness will find us somewhere
Happiness will find us somewhereOh baby, don't make me sad
You're the only one I ever had
Oh baby, don't make me sad
You're the only love I ever had, ever had
Don't make me sadDo I love? Yes, I love
Think I love, I love you, babyAll my days I've never known it
All my life I've never known it
I'm not scared to be alone
And my house feels like a homeI don't care if no one phones
And I don't care a thing
About getting gray and old
And I don't careOh baby, don't make me sad
You're the only one I ever had
Oh baby, don't make me sad
You're the only love I ever had, ever had
Don't make me sadDo I love? I think I love
Oh yes, I love, I love you, baby
Do I love? I think I love
Oh yes, I love, I love my baby
