

Better Than This (Encore)

Hunter Hayes

My bags were packed from the day I was born
I knew there was something I was living for
I found a place in a runaway car
And I never looked back
Never looked back

I never was much for falling in line
Had a long time fire in this heart of mine
I'm merely crazy in mama's eyes
But I don't mind

It could be a dead end road
I could be chasing down a broken dream
But I don't even know
Just where this thing is gonna lead
It's a mystery
No it ain't 'bout the trip
No it don't get better than this
(No it don't get better than this oh)

I kinda like it when I walk out the door
Not knowing what the good lord's got in store
There's a freedom in believing there's something more
Yeah one more chance
One more day
The sooner I need to say

It could be a dead end road
I could be chasing down a broken dream
But I don't even know
Just where this thing is gonna lead
It's a mystery
No it ain't 'bout the trip
No it don't get better than this

*guitar solo of amazingness*

Getting by on just a little sleep
And coffee cups
Learning through the downs

Living for the ups
All I know is that I feel alive
And it's a real good ride

It could be a dead end road
But it's the only life I've ever known
No matter where this goes
You know I wouldn't change a single thing
And I don't need to know
Just where this thing is gonna lead
It's a mystery
No it ain't bout the trip
No it don't get better than this
No it ain't bout the trip
And it don't get better than this
Oh no it don't get better no
Hey
Yeah e Yeah e
It don't get better than this
