Doesn't Even Matter

The Goodwill

With promises to remember take back things said and never look this way or my way and its always how you leave it and when things get too hard just push back even further to the point where simple heartbreak means forever and it doesn't even matter no matter what they say just take it day by day till it feels all right to make it through ok remembering while i'm turning the pages of history made with friends forever and unities never again i grow to accept these times lost sometimes wishing to go back and live again like they were the best days of my life but no matter how hard i try i'm still pushing back even further 'cause it seems pointless
