Synthesizer

The Wildbunch

Fake your way through a conversation
Tell her all the things you wish were true
Maybe you're the voice of a generation
And a princess somewhere waits for you
But if you're never gonna change the world
If you're never gonna be a movie star
If you're never gonna change the world
Maybe you're looking too hard
Don't synthesize her
Don't redesign her
She's no prize for
A synthesizer
Pretend you meet your own expectations
Add another name along your list
Maybe you're the next world wide sensation
You probably know a thousand ones like this
But if you're never gonna change the world
If you're never gonna be a movie star
If you're never gonna change the world
Maybe you're looking too hard
Don't synthesize her
Don't redesign her
She's no prize for
A synthesizer
Who you gonna call when the spotlight flickers?
What you gonna do when your curtain falls?
Maybe you can make them not remember
Maybe you won't end up alone
Don't synthesize her
Don't redesign her
She's no prize for
A synthesizer
Redesign her
She's no prize for
A synthesizer
