Reflections Of You

Johnny Fiasco

I spent my time trying to find
A way to lose Your shadow
I shut You out, I let You down
How could I be so shallow?
I never thought of the consequences
Until the water was over my head
All along I built these walls
Now I'm gonna let them fall
I'm seeing for the first time
The changes on the inside shining through
Your love is the reason I'm alive
So as I live my life in everything I do
I hope You see reflections of You
You watched me make all my mistakes
And you always took me back
Time and again You were my friend
Show me how to be like that
I wanna love You the way You love me
I wanna learn to forgive and forget
All along I built these walls
I'm breaking free, let them fall
I'm seeing on the outside
The changes on the inside shining through
Your love is the reason I'm alive
So as I live my life in everything I do
I hope You see reflections of You
I know that I'm not perfect
But in Your eyes You see something more
In everything I do
I hope You see reflections of You
I'm seeing on the outside
The changes on the inside shining through
Your love is the reason I'm alive
So as I live my life in everything I do, in everything I do
I hope You see reflections of You
Reflection of You
