

Keep Your Stick on the Ice

Seaway

Take a deep breath, think about what you said.
Bring it back again and realize what it meant.
It's just so hard here pretending that everyone is perfect, that everything is worth it like it used to be.
I really wonder what happened, I thought people never changed.
we skated schoolyard steps and on the lake when it froze.
Now I'm just cynical and everybody knows.
I used to laugh but then it got old.
Now I'm just cynical and everybody knows.
Where did the voices in my head come from?
I swear it's all news to me.
I really wonder what happened, I thought people never changed.
I really wonder what happened, I thought this would never change.
You'll all throw your wish in the well but I'll keep mine a secret.
My body's soaked and raw.
I'm too tired to think yet nobody cares at all.
