

Remember Yesterday

Hammerfall

Can you tell me why it seems so hard to carry on?
When you hear a voice from long ago, so bittersweet
Even though I try I cannot read between the lines
You know I tried, oh yes I tried, what's wrong?
Too late to turn back time to look over my shoulder
Maybe one day I'll return again Remember yesterday and think about tomorrow
But you have to live today
Oh lonely yesterday, don't leave me with the sorrow
'Cause I have to live today Every mornin' I awake to see the newborn day
To carry on the flame until the end of time
Too late to turn back time to look over my shoulder
Maybe one day I'll return again Remember yesterday and think about tomorrow
But you have to live today
Oh lonely yesterday, don't leave me with the sorrow
'Cause I have to live today Ohh, don't you step aside and pretend about the future
Ohh, never live a lie, don't you know tomorrow never comes? Remember yesterday and think about tomorrow
But you have to live today, yea
Oh lonely yesterday, don't leave me with the sorrow
'Cause I have to live today Ohh, don't you step aside and pretend about the future
Ohh, never live a lie, don't you know tomorrow never?
Ohh, don't you step aside and pretend about the future
Ohh, never live a lie, don't you know tomorrow never comes?
