Nothing Left To Hide

Hot Chelle Rae

Kiss me, I taste him on your lips
Touch me, he's on your fingertips
Don't say that you were with your friends
Your eyes lie and I'm staring into him againI see the faces that you see Kills me the way it used to be
'Cause I know the places that you've been
Your eyes lie and I'm staring into himWhen you feel the way I feel inside
You know that everything will be alright at the end
The end of the nightAnd when the whole damn city knows your name
And you know everyone figured out your game
You're exposed
The darkness changed to light
When you got nothing left to hideThe beast waits in the shadows alone
Why stay here when you're not coming home
Tongue in cheek imperfected you are
I become the animal waiting in the darkWords dance, a jester for her king
You say love but I don't feel a thing
Space goes as far as I can see
I'm the animal, you're the enemyWhen you feel the way I feel inside
You know that everything will be alright at the end
The end of the nightAnd when the whole damn city knows your name
And you know everyone figured out your game
You're exposed
The darkness changed to light
When you got nothing left to hideFeel the way I feel inside
You know that everything will be alright at the end
The end of the nightAnd when the whole damn city knows your name
And you know everyone figured out your game
You're exposed
The darkness changed to light
When you got nothing left toThe whole damn city knows your name
You're exposed
The darkness changed to light
You got nothing left to hide
To hide
