Lacuna Coil

Down on my knees
Feeling lost I look around
Another day
I can see
My life crashing to the ground Now that the time is ripe for change
None of the lies that I've been told
None of them lying preachers
Cannot curse me anymore Our lost souls will rise above as one We are alone
We are the night
We are the ghosts that come to life
We will scare away reality
When walls are falling down
We are alone
We aren't blind
We see the shadows from inside
We will run away and hide
When the new dawn is breaking Down in the deep
It has just begun to crawl
It's the life I can't live
In a place I don't belong
