Soul Bleed

Damageplan

Now that I'm all alone, painfully aware
I'm starting to feel the cold knowing you're not thereCaught somewhere between my fears and dreams
And all I have are demons here for companyCome and look inside, hope you like what you see
And if you run and hide, you're scared of what is me
Bind my idle hands, they only claw at me
Drown in emptiness, my soul is left to bleedThrowing a shadow on every thought I have
Knowing that some thing's gone, echo's in my headCaught somewhere between my fears and dreams
And all I have are demons here for companyCome and look inside, hope you like what you see
And if you run and hide, you're scared of what is me
Bind my idle hands, they only claw at me
Drown in emptiness, my soul is left to bleedCome and look inside, hope you like what you see
And if you run and hide, you're scared of what is me
Bind my idle hands, they only claw at me
Drown in emptiness, my soul is left to bleedSoul is left to bleed
Soul is left to bleed
Bleed, bleed, bleed
