

Run Wild

Barbra Streisand

I wandered into your wonderland
With eyes open wide
You turned me into your yesterday
But you will remain inside of me
Like I care for you, ooh, I care for you Run wild out on the edge of time, child
Carry your dreams away, love
No one can hold you now
For you are an island I may be broken but understand
My love will get by
There will be others along the way
My love, they will try to care for me
Like I care for you, ooh, I care for you Run wild out on the edge of time, child
Carry your dreams away, love
No one can hold you now
For you are an island Run wild out on the edge of time, child
Carry your dreams away
No one can hurt you now
For you are an island Carry your dreams away, love
No one can hold you now
For you are an island
