

Higher Than The Stars

The Pains of Being Pure At Heart

Sh!t faced, fumbling in a dark place
Drinking in the last days
This street looks just like the next street bumble fuck on repeat This time you should have stopped
But where's the fun?
You should have have stopped but where's the fun?
The outcome the only friend you ever had is setting off with a rich son So sure she was like a brother Till you dropped another
So sure you kept it under covers
Until you knew you loved her. Now you can't think straight
Because you're not straight
In the back of her mother's car
In the back of her mother's car
No secret's too safe and how you can't stay
In the back of her mother's car
In the back of her mother's car
Now you can't think straight
Because you're not straight
in the back of her mother's car
in the back of her mother's car
No secret's too safe
And now you just can't stay
Higher than the stars
