

God Was Created

Vehemence

From beyond the grave to awaken your mind
I must teach you a lesson that I never learned
But without a God, could you carry on?

If the answer is, "No", then just stop right there
I used to hate her Jesus, but Jesus is her God was created by human minds

Her mind was feeble so she loved God
God was created by human minds
Her God is dead, because she died
God was created by human minds

I fucking hate God, so I hate her
What I thought to be possession
Of my own mortal shell

Turned out to be my subconscious
Allowing my mind to be tricked
God was created by human minds
A ghost to scare you, make you succumb
God was created by human minds

Pathetic liar, I'm not afraid
Her Jesus was not to blame for taking her life
She died by my hand
My hands around her neck

My cock deep in her cunt
Open your mind and understand
Open your mind and understand
My hate comes from my mind, violence in my past
I fixate and connect, obsess and destroy
Her need for a god, created by her past
Fear and ostracization, she wanted it this way
This abuse created demons, one violent one demure

In the name of their God, I denounce the name of Christ
I am my own savior
From beyond the grave to awaken your mind

I must teach you a lesson that I never learned
But without a God, could you carry on?

If the answer is, "No", then just stop right there
You are your own God
I am my own God
