Scandals and Scoundrels

June

These sheets won't touch the floor tonight
She's wearin' that shirt that cuts to her shoulders
Better off with the dress that drags
Better off with the dress that dragsFrom to the small of your back to the bedroom
After this, you'll keep me guessin' once again
Once again
(You're better off with the dress that drags)
I think this is better off with the dress that drags
To the small of your backI forgot this is not where I left you
Gonna get to the bottom of this, the bottomGet me out, you are, you are Always seem to get me out
You always seem to get me started, started
Get me out, you are, you are
Always seem to get me out
You always seem to get me started, started againThis is your desperate attempt to keep your promises
Your motive is your weakness
She still self conscious 'bout her pale skin while she's feelin'This is your mistake after this
You'll keep me guessin' once again
Once again
(You're better off and you're still self conscious)
After this, you'll wish you were better off and
You wish you were better than thisI forgot this is not where I left you
Gonna get to the bottom of this, the bottomAnd I forgot this is not where I left you
Gonna get to the bottom of this, the bottomGet me out, you are, you are Always seem to get me out
You always seem to get me started, started
Get me out, you are, you are
Always seem to get me out
You always seem to get me started, started againYou're always good at gettin' started
I was always so much better talkin' myself out of this
These feet won't touch the floor tonight
Just make sure you lock the doorShe fell asleep with the TV on
The liquor is there just to keep you warm
You are my struggleYou're always good at gettin' started
I was always so much better at talkin' myself out of this
She's wearing that shirt that cuts to her shoulders (Better off with the dress that cuts to your back)Get me out, you are, you are Aways seem to get me out you are
Get me out, you are, you are

Always seem to get me out
You always seem to get me started, startedGet me out, you are, you are always seem to (You were always good at gettin' started)
(I was always so much better at talkin' myself out of this)
Get me out
You always seem to get me started, started again
