For The Second Time (Album Version)

Punchline

this bed has too much room i might need another cover these seems to be so much food and i'm used to empty cupboardsi remember when the days seemed so short when everything was so right and now you're gone and my most wanted the only thing in sightbut then i woke up to nothing and you seemed more dead than i could ever be so when you wake up to nothing i'll leave your life for the second timebe careful in this cold this bridge might stay icy and if i'm not there and don't hear a sound just like that in the night this is burning bridge falls downi remember when the days seemed so short
when everything was so right
and now you're gone and my most wanted this all ends tonight right nowthen i woke up to nothing
and you seemed more dead than i could ever be
so when you wake up to nothing i'll leave your life for the second timeits all been said before but this is my own outlook and my own curse in years i'll laugh upon looking back from the best to just dust on a box sealed shut now blow away

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/