

Missing You

Bob Mould

This is how I'm feeling for some time
I'm missing you, the reasons are all mine
Treated you unkind, so miserable am I
Yeah, I'm missing you, I need you here beside me now
Missing you, I turned into a wreck
You don't know how bad I want you back
From pushing you aside to wishing you were mine
I've been missing you, I tried, now I know there's some hope
Ooh, baby, I'm so sorry, now I've gotta see you
Ooh, maybe you could come around
And see the stupid fool who's missing you
Just for you I grabbed a ray of hope
And shine it on the places you might go
I'll search for you all night, I'm hoping you might find out that
I'm missing you, I need you here beside me now
