Blanket In A Park

Lene Marlin

Wish I could lay down beside you
On a blanket in a park somewhere
With some music and some wine maybe
Your gentle arms around me
I wouldn't wish for anything more except that time would stand still
And I pretend
You were mine
And you'd never ever leave
And I would make you feel
The only place to be
Is where there's music, some wine and me
What if I could hold your hand and kiss you
And you'd feel nothing except we felt this right
You'd forget about time and spend the night
There, on a blanket in a park
And I pretend
You were mine

And you'd never ever leave
And I would make you feel
The only place to be
Is where there's music, some wine and me
And I pretend
You were mine
And you'd never ever leave
And I would make you feel
The only place to be
Is where there's music, some wine and me
And I pretend
You were mine
And you'd never ever leave
And I would make you feel
The only place to be
Is where there's music, some wine and me
