Hospital Windows

STAMPEAD

and all your wishes fallen on an eyelash itâ€™s a shame but thereâ€™s so many more youâ€™ve hung on 18 13â€™s killed you all your numbers at war old men with Velcro shoes and sweet old ladies singing the blues on memories of children that have grown old with them but still they smile between wakes and winter breaks like flowers in the snow they got what it takes to survive you know but still they cry and only they know why Iâ€™m sure thereâ€™s a reason thereâ€™s a season for us to all come back again like a baby, asleep safe in its motherâ€™s arms and mother still sings and who knows why

alls I wants a picture just a plastic photograph something to remember it all

Lyrics submitted by stampead.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/