Champion

Take a look at everything we've done
Because I feel a sense of pride
All the bridges built and the bonds we've made
Will last our lives because they're built on trustAnd as the years go by, I see what we've built
Pass all expectations that we've ever set
And growing strongerI know the road is hard, but all the things we gain
Make the struggle worth the cost
And through it all I can't understand
How so many have lost sightBut with past mistakes and all the damages done
I know how hard it is just to carry on
So it's time we leave those regrets behindHolding on no matter what the cost
It's not all we have, but it's all we want
White knuckles, clenched fists, we'll make the best of this
And we'll leave those regrets behindI don't quit and you don't quit, that's just the way it has to be
We're going to watch all the bonds we've built
Growing stronger
And we'll leave all those regrets behind
