

The Pain

Brooks deForest

If we are to love again
The pain must end
If we are to live again
The pain must end And I don't know
Why people go
And we're left alone If we are to start again
Then forgiveness must begin
If we are to have life again
Then it must come from within And I don't know
Why people must go
And we're left alone If we are to love again
The pain must end
If we are to live again
The pain must end And I don't know
Why people go
And we're left alone
