Coaster

Night Gaunts

This is incomplete...
All mistakes are mine.
No infringement intended.

another tasty ride, yeah another late night night home I'm trying to beat the traffic on the bus like a cluster bomb
a mistake's too much to bear I can't even sit in this chair and now I've lost the point and now I've got a headache and now I'm vomiting and I can't get my fucking shit straight I spend most of my time pulling faces in the mirror

behind bathroom doors
I can better myself

she said dead
we're all dead
we're all dead dead dead

but we'll keep on going because that's the point we can't just sit around and let this shit get to ourselves we'll all go nuts
and it's too late for me I've gotta save you from the devil he's inside me

yeah, I'll just take the coaster home if you need me I'll be sitting on my throne

if I was this basement I would have it my way I would get stoned on the Earth like every single day in the night time I would sleep and I wouldn't be annoyed by all these haunting dreams thinking galaxies who I find sporting in my knapsack better put 'em on my back take a mile with me

man we'll never let these demons go the devil's in me
he's also in you sold on a God who would sing the truth

let yourself shine away
let yourself shine
away

[this line is possibly in Maori]
just wanna fall
let it all out

dead dead dead

live life
love one another

who is gonna save you
who would save you now
who would save you

who will save you
who will save you from the devil who will save you from the feelings of death who will save you when it's ready to hide who will save you once you say you're mine
