Either Side Of The World

Crowded House

Either side of the world, chase the sun Pay the maximum rate to feel so lonesome Wrapped up like little lambs, safe from harm

Enjoy it while you can, happiness is far from homeYou know it, he knows it, everybody knows it

When you're in love the world moves with you

Whatever you want, they're happy to give you

The last resortWhere the famous have come to be alone

Try to work it out, the same progression

Sometimes I try too hard to overcome

Sometimes I think too much, wish I could've held my tongueYou know it, he knows it, everybody knows it

When you're in love the world moves with you

Whatever you want, you turn yourself into

And then you're in hellLuxury and leisure never meant pleasure

Real life but different passion and commitment

CommitmentWish I could've held my tongueYou know it, he knows it, everybody knows it

When you're in love the world moves with you

Whatever you want, they're happy to give you

When you're in hellLuxury and leisure never meant pleasure

Real life but different passion and commitment

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/