

Ride On

Celtic Woman

Sure you ride the finest horse, I have ever seen Standing sixteen one or two, with eyes wild and green
And you ride the horse well, hands light to the touch I could never go with you no matter how I wanted to Ride on, see you, I could never go with you no matter how I wanted to
When you ride into the night, without a trace behind Run your claw along my gut, one last time I turn to face an empty space, where you used to lie
I look for the spark that lights the night
Through the teardrop in my eye
Ride on, see you, I could never go
with you no matter how I wanted to Ride on, see you, I could never go
with you no matter how I wanted to Ride on, see you, I could never go
with you no matter how I wanted to I could never go with you no matter how I wanted to Oh, I could never go with you
no matter how I wanted to
