The Dream Is Over

Prabir & Goldrush

Let this dagger bury deep
Cause I'm not afraid to bleed
Through all the spaces in between Never meant anything
Cause i gave everything i had
To build a promise land
A place where proudly i could stand
This castle made of sand
Is slipping through my hands
The dream is over now
Our hearts have been misguided
Lost somehow
The dream is over now
Our fate has been decided
It's all been lost somehow
It's over now
Is this a blessing or a curse
A message well rehearsed
A means to justify the end
Of what we could've been Bury every word i've said in the city of the dead
And drown this masterpiece in red
The color in my head
This tired skin ill shed
The dream is over now
Our hearts have been misguided

Lost somehow
The dream is over now
Our fate has been decided
It's all been lost somehow
Lost somehow
The waters rushing in We're fighting over the remains
Of a sea too crowded to repair
We're dying to defend
A feeling that has lost its way
Cause our dreams no longer there
Yeah!

The dream is over now
Our hearts have been misguided
Lost somehow
The dream is over now
Our fate has been decided
It's all been lost somehow
It's over now (it's over now)
It's over now (it's over now)
Yeah it's over now
Our fate has been decided
It's all been lost somehow
lost somehow
yeah it's over now

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/