Absence Of The Heart

Deana Carter

I write you letters but I don't send them
I just can't figure out how to end them
I try to reach you, you're right beside me
There's something missin' and we can't deny that
We live together separately
We don't want to fall apart
But every time we kiss there's an emptiness
And absence of the heart
How did we lose it, why did this happen
When did we take it all for granted?
We sit in silence, inside we're cryin'
How can we keep out love from dyin'?

We live together separately
We don't want to fall apart
But every time we kiss there's an emptiness
And absence of the heart
We live together separately
We don't want to fall apart
But every time we kiss there's an emptiness
And absence of the heart
We live together separately
We don't want to fall apart
But every time we kiss there's an emptiness
And absence of the heart
I write you letters but I don't send them
