

Better Off Now

Pillar

All of this is changing, none of this seems real
I just keep on waiting to see if I can feel
Something like an angel watching over me
Maybe that's exactly what's in front of me 'Cause I'm better off now since You came around
You've gone and shown me everything I needed just
To see that I am better off now since You came around
All I had to do is see what I could be
So I could know I'm better off now I've wasted so much time now just to try and find
The answer to the question, I've tried so hard to hide
I never knew emotions could ever run this high
I was so far down, I lost the will to try But I'm better off now since You came around
You've gone and shown me everything I needed just
To see that I am better off now since You came around
All I had to do is see what I could be
So I could know I'm better off now Day after day, I threw it all away
I'm never turning back that way again 'Cause I'm better off now since You came around
You've gone and shown me everything I needed just
To see that I am better off now since You came around
All I had to do is see what I could be
So I could know I'm better off now
