

Until We Meet Again

Flogging Molly

There is an angel on my doorstep
But I do not know who she is for
Said she promised me forever
So I slammed behind the door
When will I be back I said
But she turned and held the key
To the soul you have lost
Forever walks with me Ho, until, until we meet again
I'll drown in my own hell
To take back all I've said
Until we meet again Mother of all mothers
Did you mother need too long?
And father like all fathers
Wasn't long before you went gone
This chain has me in prison
But in the cell I don't belong
And to the sun I was lost
Together we are born Ho, until, until we meet again
I'll drown in my own hell
To take back all I've said
Until we meet again Come back to me tomorrow
And I'll show you all the days
Underestimate the mornings
Then the nights are here to stay The fools are all exploding
But their work is never done
Ah, what the hell my good friend
You are a fool like everyone
Ho, until, until we meet again
I'll drown in my own hell
To take back all I've said
Until we meet, until we meet again He he Until we meet again
