Giant

Eloy

Mighty men of power, great Goliaths who've turned sour never feeling, never caring only blindly you're following one flight of power crushing all who stand there before you taking breaking you even make the strong men cower grind to dust, those who can't pay your due With careful plans your lies there's no risk and no mistake ignore the small man as he cries smash him and then he'll cooperate giant stop for a moment search deep within your heart are you so sure you're right you could make a new start if you left this Earth who would care what d'you think you're worth just a share you don't have much time face the truth
you'll pay for your crime you must choose there's another way of living see what you get by giving take your chance, find your way take it, while you may forget that thing called pride just awaken what's inside stop deceiving start believing your humility will be your last misleading guide the seeking mind could then show you how freely gladly now fulfill yourself, be satisfied give all the love, that you can mend all with simple joys, your life will be rich and so much more welcome the feeling, see it thrive the peace that you've been searching for Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/