Open Hearts and Doors

Antigone Rising

I, I've had a change of heart
This one's come to say that it is awake
In, in this time alone, I have come to know
You'd be fine with one foot in and one to goYou, you don't know by now
And you don't know by now about
Open hearts and doorsOnce I was the big mistake
That one was hard to shake
Forgiveness draws its first breath with hesitationYou, you don't know by now
You don't know by now about
Open hearts and doorsSo, I lead with borrowed light into your darkest night
Where you're still afraid of me
Trade the sadness on your face with me there in its place
And set us freeYou, you don't know by now
You don't know by now about
Open heartsYes you, you don't know by now
And you don't know by now about
Open hearts and doorsOpen hearts and doors
Open your heart and your door
Open heartsI, I've had a change of heart
This one's come to say that it is awake
