

Something to Hold on To

Turnpike Troubadours

Won't you give me something
Something to hold on to
This whole world has taken

Taken me for a ride You come smiling through the doorway looking like an old regret

Still a whole lot better than you did last time we met
Between a real hard spot and a hole in a concrete wall

Running out of highway looking for a place to fall Won't you give me something

Something to hold on to
This whole world has taken
Taken me for a ride
Pick me up and learn me
Turn me down and burn me
Darling won't you give me
Give me one last try

Well to tell you true I never thought we'd be here again

Gonna feel alright now darling for the shape I'm in

Nearly fell to pieces just thinking it would all fall through

Feeling like somebody when you finally came into view Darling won't you give me something

Something to hold on to
This whole world has taken
Taken me for a ride
Pick me up and learn me
Turn me down and burn me
Darling won't you give me

Give me one last try Now I won't say it all worked out like I planned

Lucky I still got a leg on which to stand
I had a half of mind to get gone
Leave it a little try to move on

But I just sat there staring at the secondhand

On the barroom wall now

Darling won't you give me something

Something to hold on to
This whole world has taken
Taken me for a ride
Pick me up and learn me
Turn me down and burn me
Darling won't you give me
Give me one last try

Try
