Garbage Day

Brendan Benson

I've tried but I don't believe her
She lies, she's a deceiver
I might, I might just leave her beAlone in my apartment
Lights out I'm in the dark again
I'll wait for someone to rescue me, to save meBut if she throws her heart away
I'll be there on garbage day
To sift through what's left, I guess
To sort through the lonelinessAnd I don't mind, no, I don't mind
If all the neighbors can see me
I'll take whatever I can get when I can get it
It's that easy, oh, believe meI've known so long, it's been on my mind
Full blown by now and I'm wasting time
I'll leave it all up to her to decideAnd she sighs and says she can't feel love
She tries but just can't conceive of
A life without so much pain insideAnd if she throws her heart away
I'll be there on garbage day
To sift through what's left, I guess
To sort through the lonelinessAnd I don't mind, no, I don't mind
If all the neighbors can see me, yeah
I'll take whatever I can get when I can get it
It's that easy, oh, believe me, it's that easySo believe me, it's so easy
So believe me, it's so easy
And I know I won't see her here again
