Copeland

My heart is racing
Desire opens the door
I'm sure of how you will feel
Though I've always believe in them blindly before
I've never seen an angel so real
I held your hand last night
It was more than I ever could've hoped
Though I always believed in them blindly before
I've never held an angel so close
Intoxicating love, how dare I not expect you
When the God over us is done

He'll bring me straight to you
I held your hand last night
It was more than I ever could've hoped
Though I always believed in them blindly before
I've never held an angel so close
Intoxicating love, how dare I not expect you
When the God over us is done
He'll bring me straight to you
