

These Are The Times

Styx

I hear voices from beyond the veil
They reverberate in mystery
There are shadows in my heart, oh And they multiply in memory
And the comrades that I've lost out there
From the scattered ruins still speak to me If the flickering light of your campfire dims
The world grows smaller, it's closing in
I'm standin' here, and I want you to live I know these are the times we find out who we really are
This will be when a true friend stands at your side
Someone like me who wants to believe In the days of high time and innocence
Drawing the lines and shouting back to the night
Someone like me who wants you to live And from those who've seen the light beyond
We know the end will bring tranquility
But the voices of the friends they heard
Brought them back to this reality Though the beacon of light in your life seems dim
The sun's coming up on the world we're in
There are choices here, and I want you to live I know these are the times we find out who we really are
This will be when a true friend stands at your side
One more like me who wants to believe In the truth of all we experienced
To live again, to jump back into the fight
Someone like me who wants you to live Pouring light from the sky
Portends you and I
Disappears in the night I still remember I hear voices from beyond the veil
Like a faint unfinished symphony Though the beacon of light in your life seems dim
The sun's comin' up on the world we're in
I'm standin' here, and I want you to live I know these are the times we find out who we really are
This will be when a true friend stands at your side
One more like me who wants to believe In the truth of all we experienced
To live again, to jump back into the fight
Someone like me who wants you to live I want you, I want you, I want you to live
I want you, I want you, I want you to live
I want you to live, I still remember
