Brother Moon

Amorphis

Free flowing water

The air is so warm

It breathes for you

It sees through you before the storm

And if the lake can't

Be the sister

To the moon

To the river

To the sunThe leaves are falling

Cutting the moonlight

They brake the waves

Gazing to the stars

And if the lake can't

Be the sister

To the moon

To the river

To the earthI know I wouldn't be strong

Wouldn't be brother to the moon

I know I wouldn't be strong

Wouldn't be sister to the woodsHere is another soul

Another path

Another God
