

Emotional Drought

Dagon (Fra)

It's possible that the worst of the inside
Could take our pencils away, end creating
Can't let the teachers lay waste of a new mind

Prevent emotional drought and watch the pace quickenTry to, never touch, try to, never touch

Won't keep holding back my conscious realize

There's a choice to not end up like you

Not end up like youLet's turn our wretched debates into action

By diplomacy gain back a handshake

Tied and unable to tend, to the wounds that were made

So much closer to shame we see but never touchNever touch, try to, never touch, try to, never touch

Won't keep holding back my conscious realize

There's a choice to not end up like you

Not end up like youSearch for truthOne more man, tearing at the throat of

One more man, never dropped as fast as

One more man, coloring the fate of

One more man, is better than the fate of youTry to, never touch, try to, never touch

Won't keep holding back my conscious realize

There's a choice to not end up like youHolding back my conscious realize

There's a choice to not end up like you

Not end up like you
