Lazy

Green Apple Quick Step

I know she's strapin on her violin face
Playin the strings with her bow in hand
I wonder how she's gonna move her pieces
When the king wants to checkmate with the queenIt's all lazy when the opera sings
Angels dance
And a vampire comes out a day break and sinks his
Teeth and traps his gameAnd I know it minds me
When she swim away
Do you love her
And it's the wind that blows her sail
Away from meI know she's lying on the patio
Reading the book of indecisions and renaissance
I figure she's on amphetamines
And when + & love=minusIt's all lazy when the opera sings
Angels dance
And a vampire comes out a day break and sinks his
Teeth and traps his gameAnd I know it minds me
When she swim away
Do you love her
And it's the wind that blows her sail
Away from me
I pray that I can pull the screw out of your head
Nothing in the world wants to get away
Do you love her?
I love her
