

Blame It On Fate (Album Version)

Jude Cole

Why you wanna break me down
Every time I come around?
You've done all a woman can
To make me feel like half a man But something in the sky above
Oh, keeps lifting up my heart to love, oh yeah, yeah
So baby, open up that door
'Cause I'm standing in the rain begging for more Blame it on fate, blame it on blind love
But I can't give up on you
But you can blame it on fate, blame it on blind love
But I can't give up on you, no no Blame it on fate, blame it on blind love
But I can't give up on you
No, I can't give up on you, no no Why you wanna play this game?
Pretending to forget my name, oh
Through these lonely eyes I see
You ain't so happy being free Something in the skies of blue
Is telling me you're gonna want me too Well, you can blame it on fate, blame it on blind love
But I can't give up on you
If you're making me wait, I'm standing in line, love
'Cause I can't give up on you, no no Blame it on fate, blame it on blind love
But I can't give up on you
No, I can't give up on you, ooh There's something in the skies above
That keeps filling up my heart with love, love, love Blame it on fate, blame it on blind love
But I can't give up on you
Well, you're making me wait, I'm standing in line, love
But I can't give up on you, no no Blame it on fate, blame it on blind love
But I can't give up on you, well, I can't give up on you
Can't give up on you, can't give up on you
Can't give up on you Said I can't give up on you, can't give up on you
Can't give up on you, can't give up on you
Oh, can't give up on you, can't give up on you
Can't give up on you
