Domesticated

[unknown]

If you ever let me go,
I will run as far and right past the sun.
My eyes are drawn like curtains,
A reason long that I've been hurting.
(Stop looking for me, stop looking for me)
You'll never see me cry,
Not even when I die,
I don't have the time.
(Stop looking for me, stop looking for me)
I'm not done living in a world of experimenting,
Wanna make friends with the self destructing,
I'm not meant to be your domesticated girl
It's hard for you to look at me,
I'm something more than just your property.
Stealing all my attention,
You keep me from the world I'm missing.

(Stop looking for me, stop looking for me)
When will you realize,
That every single lie is all in your mind?
(Stop looking for me, stop looking for me)
I'm not done living in a world of experimenting,
Wanna make friends with the self destructing,
I'm not meant to be your domesticated girl.
Just untie the chains that break and bind me,
Give me all your prayers, give me all your blessings,
I'm not meant to be your domesticated girl.
I'm not done living in a world of experimenting,
Wanna make friends with the self destructing,
I'm not meant to be your domesticated girl.
Just untie the chains that break and bind me,
Give me all your prayers, give me all your blessings,
I'm not meant to be your domesticated girl.
