

Nefarious

Halows Eve

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Taking you down to the dark depths of hell fire lies under your feet

I am the ruler of this dark domain murder is what I now seek

Demons above you are flying on high eternal death to come soon

Welcoming you to their fiery home welcome the legions of doomTorture, waiting to die torment, you scream

and you cry

Evil, in my eyes death, in the black of the night

Souls into bondage I take one by one behold their screams and their cries

Innocent victims lined up down the way each one is waiting to die

Only the evil survive in this place who have knowledge of the carnal soul

Death to the hungry now death to the weak I am in total controlOnly the memories of lives they have spent linger in their mortal minds

Bow down the horned god of the black underworld now I will make you my prize

Farther and farther and farther you go spiralling out of control

Feeling the heat from my fiery home burning your innocent soul

Demons in fiery chariots come to take you on this molten ride

You and the others the rest of the world experiencing genocide

Farther and farther and farther you go spiralling out of control

Is this your hell or the world that you live for now it may well be as one
