As the World Burns

Bolt Thrower

Turn around and shield your eyes,
Don't look back as the earth dies
NO tomorrow for eternity'
The apocalyptic prophecy'
Our futile lives shall be no more.
Innocent victims of the nuclear glare,
Are torn apart as they stand unaware.
The whole worlds is radioactive,
None shall escape the fall-out rain,
Our future life shall be steeped in pain.
Feel the chill of the nuclear winds,
Our planets downfall shall now begin.
No excurse for the vast destruction,
Caused by man with no comprehension.
Life expectacy now decreases,
Our foolish games, what have we learnt?
No time for sorrow as the world burns.
