Compass (feat. Matt Bubel)

SVRCINA

Tell me is it crazy if I waited for you baby and the day you came the sun ran out of light

Tell me is it foolish if I start a revolution and I go into the battle wearing white

Darling I would die a million times if I knew it made you mine, if I knew it made you mine

Darling I would die a million times for the rest of my life

And if you never show up
The beating of my heart erupts
What we never started was already undone
And I never get to feel your love

If you were here with me
Would I even know
Or Would you pass through me
just like a ghost

Tell me is it crazy if I waited for you baby and the day you came the sun ran out of light

Tell me is it foolish if I start a revolution and I go into the battle wearing white

Darling I would die a million times if I knew it made you mine, if I knew it made you mine

Darling I would die a million times for the rest of my life

I really wanna believe
In someone that remains unseen
Don't you know that I would give you everything
But while I'm in the in between

I will hold on to

Every bit of hope
All these thoughts of you
I won't let them go

I will search the world just to find you
I will keep a compass in my hand
There's no storm that I would never fight through To find you
I will find you

I will search the world just to find you
I will keep a compass in my hand
There's no storm I would never fight through
To find you
I will find you

Tell me is it crazy if I waited for you baby and the day you came the sun ran out of light

Tell me is it foolish if I start a revolution and I go into the battle wearing white

Tell me is it crazy if I waited for you baby and the day you came the sun ran out of light

Tell me is it foolish if I start a revolution and I go into the battle wearing white

Darling I would die a million times if I knew it made you mine, if I knew it made you mine

Darling I would die a million times for the rest of my life
